

How protected is the data you send over the internet or once it leaves your hands? Even though transmissions may be encrypted, you have little control over how your information is handled once it reaches your recipient. It can easily be forwarded to others without your knowledge or authority. It can be freely printed and distributed. Worse yet, it can end up in the hands of competitors via consultants, contract workers, and outside vendors.

SafecoreVDR (Virtual Data Room)

Collaborate in a secure virtual environment

SafecoreVDR is a virtual data room where businesses can share and review even the most sensitive and confidential content safely. Safecore transforms electronic and paper documents into virtualized electronic content that is hosted on a secure site and provides access and management control right down to the file level.

SafecoreVDR makes your virtualized content available for viewing 24/7, with the security of knowing it can not be downloaded or printed without permission. Multiple users can view content simultaneously, so you can easily keep up with the schedules required in today's fast-paced business environment and time-sensitive transactions such as mergers and acquisitions.

Benefits of SafecoreVDR:

How It Works.

Virtual data rooms provide you with a secure solution for providing access to sensitive or confidential business information while maintaining control over how it's viewed, printed and shared.

A virtual data room lets you give access to sensitive corporate data via a secure login and provides you with total control over how it's viewed and managed. You dictate who sees the information and set limits on printing, copying and forwarding privileges.

SafecoreVDR offers a secure, flexible way to disseminate sensitive content to trusted parties

Board Communications

Make sensitive board information readily available to board members, advisors, corporate secretaries, legal counsel, CEOs, CFOs and senior executives while keeping unauthorized users out. Maintain efficient, secure board communications while streamlining the collection and distribution of high-value content by placing it securely online.

Corporate Repository

Keep your critical business documents safe and secure yet accessible for all authorized parties who need to view them—from anywhere in the world. Real-time access reports detail who has been reviewing specific documents. And a complete archive of every document transaction improves document management and improves compliance and regulatory processes.

Acquisition Management

Improve management of acquisitions and close deals faster. Powerful records storage and retrieval facilitates due diligence and eases compliance reviews. Quickly, easily and securely share pitch books, offering memorandums and other documentation critical to the evaluation, negotiation and execution of acquisitions.

Merger Integration

Exchange sensitive merger information, like plant closings and compensation changes, in a secure environment. Post-merger strategy documents can be easily shared between internal and external team members ensuring a smooth and successful transition.

Real Estate Management Share your real estate portfolio securely online with suppliers, contractors, banks, lenders, potential buyers, sellers and other with SafecoreVDR. Store and manage lease and contract information in a single location for quick and easy retrieval.

Audit and Compliance Management

Provide secured sharing of confidential audit and compliance information for more efficient management and review. Document-level permission ensures that only authorized users can access the materials. Powerful archive capabilities make it easy to comply with document retention policies.

Legal Matters

Provide your legal team with a turnkey solution for securely sharing and storing legal materials, including full contract libraries, trademark and patent portfolios, human resources matters, regulatory documentation and more.

Corporate Services

Collect, store and share high-value corporate content online while adhering to the highest security requirements. Manage and control who has access to your content and receive real-time reports detailing who has accessed the information.

Alternative Investments

Stop printing, collating and mailing fund information to current and potential investors. Virtualize your fund information and distribute it safely through SafecoreVDR for streamlined communication between fund managers and investors.

Fundraising

Speed your information flow to current and prospective investors and reduce the time it takes to make a close. Post and distribute fundraising collateral, private placement memorandums and historical performance documents online so investors and donors can make informed decisions more quickly.

Fund and Investment Reporting

Distribute quarterly reports and other performance information online providing your investors and limited partners access to this time-sensitive information 24/7 from any location. Reduce the time spent on fulfilling investor requests by referring them directly to your online content.

Corporate Finance

Communicate securely with executive teams, finance teams, advisors, underwriters and outside counsel without the file size limitations, bounce-back problems and security issues associated with email. Organize and accelerate the exchange of information required for mergers, acquisitions, IPOs, private placements, secondary offerings, debt financings, restructurings and more.

Procurement (RFPs)

Exchange information with bidders securely online for a procurement process that's more secure and highly responsive. Designated bidders can view RFPs and post their responses to a single, secured online location.

Life Science

Achieve more secured and organized exchange of regulatory and safety data required for clinical trials for review by investigators, contract research organizations, institutional review boards and regulatory agencies. Maintain a complete auditable record for clinical trial monitoring and generate access reports as needed from your desktop.
